New York Fashions By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

London looked its best in the brilliant sunshine and all the excitement of the season when I was there last month, says Dora Miller in a letter to Mary Brooks Picken.

Royal garden parties still added to its brilliancy and as usual those functions gave opportunity to smart women to show themselves off in their best light.

Peter Russell is one of the dressmakers who has created one of the prettiest models for the occasion. It consists of a white organdy gown with stitchings in silver in wide bands at regular intervals all over the dress. He is also making evening dresses with three yards of tulle which can be used over the head and the shoulders to protect the hair while driving in a car. One yellow model was particularly lovely in soft crepe, with a modified Princess silhouette, with no waist line, and spray of black tulips at the breast.

New Lace, New Shade. A new corded metal lace is used too for his model, in his new shade Coronation blue, without a belt, in his new princess silhouette, and has an enormous choux-covering the whole breast. He is also making up for the lace collection a new kind of lace just created, in jade blue, which will stick to his new silhouette.

And, of course, a great point is made of garden reception frocks what with the Royal garden parties, which have inspired all the dressmakers to make masterpieces in lace and tulle.

Dilkusha has made an interesting evening coat in black net completely stitched with wide bands of black braid all over from the costumes she is making for the Gallants in the film version of "Les Ecoles des Femmes."

And one of the great novelties of the day, will be a new water-proof lace for raincoats and umbrellas, to be launched by Dilkusha in September, and will be one more proof of the practicality of lace, rightly used and adapted.

PRIZE WINNERS AT W.E.C. CARD PARTY

Five tables were in play at the party given Thursday afternoon by Stephen A. Phillips Relief Corps in their hall, 1951 Carson street. Prizes in bridge play were captured by Mrs. J. S. Miller and Mrs. Florence Buck. Prizes in 500 were won by Mable Webb and Eliza Stewart.

Visitors Praise Municipal Park

Enthusiastic praise for the lovely park, its facilities, and the kindness shown by the park attendant was expressed to the reporter by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mock, of Castle Apartments, who Sunday morning entertained 25 at breakfast in the city park. Their guests included folks from Cincinnati, Ohio, Hollywood, South Gate, Long Beach and Compton. Mrs. Mock said the group had visited parks all over the country, but this was the only one where everything was free.

MOTORBIKE MEN WIND UP VISIT

In order to raise funds for entertainment of visiting officers when the Municipal Motorcycle Officers' Association meets at Santa Monica in September, the motorbike men of that city are staging a dance at La Monica ballroom Aug. 22. Al Lyons and his Coconut Grove orchestra will play. Nick Cochran, member of the orchestra, and Lieut. George Figueredo, of the Santa Monica police department, will be featured soloists.

J. R. Wilkes, 2019 Gramercy avenue, is spending two weeks' vacation with friends and relatives in San Francisco and Pacific Grove.

Hard Won Funds

Provide Torrance Library With Useful Equipment

Out of the funds of the oldest organized social welfare group in Torrance came an unexpected gift to the Torrance library. Many gifts, from time to time, have come into the possession of the library, but none more gratefully appreciated, nor more useful.

Tuesday morning members of the Torrance Relief Society, including 17 of those who have been identified with its work for many years, visited the new library building and presented a large globe map of the world.

Mrs. Caroline Collins, president, made the presentation speech. She reviewed briefly the history of the library and the history of the Torrance Relief Society, established in 1917.

She said:

"The Torrance public library, founded in November, 1913, has at last realized its vision of a permanent home and we stand here in this beautiful building.

"The Torrance Relief Society, the pioneer society of 1917, also cherished such a vision and early established a building fund.

Kin of Indian Chief Wins Laurels on Air

Berna Dean, charming blues singer whose great-grandfather was a full-blooded Cherokee chief, has been selected the most promising radio artist from the city of Los Angeles by a poll of "California's Hour" listeners. She has survived 3,000 contestants striving to enter the variety hour's quest for new stars of radio in the Southwest's leading city. Miss Dean's grandfather, an Englishman, was killed by his Cherokee father-in-law for sleeping with the Indian's daughter.

Young Couple Will Reside In Lomita

Culminating a school-day romance, Vada Courtney, of San Pedro, and George Gould, of Harbor City, were married Sunday at 4 p. m. in the Seventh Day Adventist church at Wilmington.

Vera Courtney served as maid of honor for her sister and Gene Jeter as best man for Mr. Gould. Miss Emma Gould, sister of the groom, and Miss Lyndal Phillips were bridesmaids. Chesley Jeter and Tyson Gould served as ushers.

The groom was graduated from Narbonne high school with the class of '35 and the bride with the class of '36. The couple are now on a honeymoon in Seattle after which they will establish their home in Lomita.

PUBLIC INVITED TO GRAND BALL

KARNA VACATIONS WITH AUNTS

Miss Karna Deiningner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Deiningner, 1613 Cota avenue, is visiting this week with her aunt, Beth Deiningner, in Ventura.

Thursday and Friday, Karna with her aunt, Mrs. R. J. Deiningner, visited with Mrs. Deiningner's sister, Mrs. Carl Edgar, at Balboa Island.

Funds Grow Slowly

"The funds of the society were earned by hard work of members, individually and collectively. The demands were heavy and the funds grew slowly.

"Later the work increased to such proportions that the financial support was assumed by the merchants thru drives; still later by the Chamber of Commerce from community chest funds. The building fund now became dormant.

"Though still functioning very actively, the character of our work has so changed that we no longer need a home of our own. Therefore, we, the early members of the Torrance Relief Society, take pleasure in presenting to the Torrance public library this gift from our long cherished building fund."

Fitting Memorial

In her brief acceptance speech, Mrs. Dorothy Jamieson, librarian, said:

"As librarian of Torrance library it gives me great pleasure to accept this gift from your society. It will be a fitting memorial to the work you have so long carried which has been a labor of love and sacrifice on your part. If you do not have a building of your own to crown your efforts you will realize that in the hearts of those you have helped and in the love and respect with which you are regarded in the community you have found a permanent abiding place."

PARTIES HONOR WASHINGTON VISITOR

Honoring her house guest, Mrs. Mary Hinds, of Everett, Washington, Mrs. Mary Schroeder, 1016 Arlington avenue, entertained with a bunko party in her home Friday evening. ENJOYING SUMMER SPORTS HARMLESSLY
By a Rexall Representative

Summer frolics in sun and wind need not be foregone thru fear of sunburn, nor made unpleasant by greasy creams used as a safeguard.

Through scientific study there has been developed a lotion which assures complete protection. By combining selected qualities of Zinc Oxide, Carbolic Acid, Camphor, Glycerine and Lime Water it was found that the finest protection yet developed resulted. You will note that of all the ingredients used every one is a substance that is recognized as beneficial to the skin.

The new product produced under the name of Rexall Gypsy Cream is greaseless and will leave no stain on clothes or bed linen.
